

KNOWLEDGELINKSM

SCIENTIFIC INSIGHT FROM THOMSON REUTERS

science.thomsonreuters.com | subscribe | archive | contact us

GLOBAL INNOVATION

October 2009

Citations predict four Nobel Prize winners: We successfully predicted four 2009 Nobel Prize winners in two categories.

JOIN OUR CUSTOMER PANEL

Want to influence product development at Thomson Reuters? Participation in our virtual panel involves completing one or two brief web surveys per quarter. Interested? Apply here.

INFORMATION PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Citation-based research evaluation: Learn more about InCites and the methodology behind citation-based research evaluation.

Tools to promote your ISI Web of Knowledge subscription: Register now for free web-based training to help keep you up to date and take advantage of new functionality in Journal Citation Reports.

The organ growers: Tissue engineering is being applied to develop patient-specific replacement tissue.

PREFER A DIFFERENT FORMAT?

PDF copy of KnowledgeLink

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

Innovation hotspots: Mining patent data for tomorrow's breakthroughs.

Alternative energy powers up: Who will win the race to secure energy independence?

Addressing patent creation backlogs: Solutions for addressing backlogs in patent creation entities.

Intellectual property and its role in business success: Intangible assets may be vital for long-term survival of small businesses.

Thomson Innovation training 24/7: Thomson Innovation training is available at the click of a mouse.

PHARMACEUTICAL KNOWLEDGE

Treating H1N1: The innovation behind the science: Who are the originators, manufacturers and patent holders of influenza drugs?

The Japanese generic drug market: Opportunities and strategies for success.

Outlook and issues for the biotechnology sector: A comprehensive assessment of Wall Street's perception of, and outlook for, the biotechnology sector.

Cure for Needy: Bringing down the production costs of orphan drugs.

IUPAC- Richter Prize in Medicinal Chemistry: Call for nominations

Disease detectives: Molecular profiling and the quest for personalized medicine.

SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

India's scientific output to overtake the G8 by 2020?: New study predicts India's research productivity could overtake most G8 nations.

ResearcherID: Increasing the visibility of researchers and their work.

Brazilian science on the rise: Brazil has been moving consistently upward in the output and impact of its scientific publications.

SC0910002

THOMSON REUTERS

thomsonreuters.com

Copyright © 2009 Thomson Reuters